SEAQUIP 2027: VISITOR REGISTRATION IS NOW OPEN

SEAQUIP, Italy's only B2B trade fair dedicated to equipment and components for the nautical industry, has officially opened visitor registration for its second edition, taking place from 2 to 4 March 2027 at Fiera Milano Rho.

Following the success of its inaugural edition, SEAQUIP is preparing to welcome once again equipment manufacturers, suppliers, naval architects, designers, shipyards and industry professionals from around the world, offering a strategic platform for networking, the development of new business opportunities and discussion of the latest innovations in the marine industry.

For the 2027 edition, the organisers have also revised the exhibition floor plan, introducing an optimised layout designed to enhance the experience of both exhibitors and visitors, improve visitor flow within the hall and further maximise opportunities for meetings and business connections among attending professionals. In addition, part of the exhibition will be dedicated to marinas and tourist ports, a new feature for the second edition that has already received strong interest from operators in the sector.

The event aims to consolidate its role as a key meeting point for the Mediterranean and international markets, facilitating connections between supply and demand across the entire value chain of the yachting and shipbuilding industries.

Visitor registration is now open on the official website, where exhibitors and visitors can find all the information they need to plan their participation.
